

OUR 8 COMMUNITY PRINCIPLES

Welcome to our global community! It exists to help you, and others like you, overcome the many hard challenges of unleashing teams with Scrum and Liberating Structures. Our hope is that you find creative support, that you enjoy the satisfaction of helping others and that you feel part of a larger movement to liberate teams all over the world.

This only works when our community is safe, encourages diversity and honors all contributions. Starting from our purpose (center), we devised 9 principles (yellow) that are essential to follow. In the outer circles, we added examples of behavior that support these principles (green) and behavior that damages them (pink). And since we're all only human, its perfectly okay to make a mistake every now and then and learn from that. That's what we're here for. If you have additions, questions or feedback, go to #our_principles on Discord or send an email to info@theliberators.com.
